Title: The World Almanac and Book of Facts 2015 Senior Editor: Sarah Janssen Publisher: World Almanac Books ISBN: 978-1-60057-190-4

'The World Almanac' has been informing, entertaining, and amusing Americans since 1868. With more fascinating facts per page than any other general reference, 'The World Almanac' has the authoritative answers to your questions on every essential subject

• the back jacket states of the 2015 version. At one thousand and eight pages of small print in a thick paperback book, this is the go-to physical format for data, information, or explanation up to the year 2014. With sixteen glossy pages of colored photographs, a few black and white pictures, charts, colored maps, and small paragraph format, this book is targeted for those fascinated with information from America and around the world. The first fifty pages tabbed the Year in Review are special features that cover top ten news topics, the world at a glance, Ebola outbreak facts, American Veterans, election results, a chronology of events, obituaries, Congress, the U.S. Supreme Court, notable quotes, offbeat news stories, anniversaries, and a time capsule. The remaining nine tabbed sections relate to the economy and employment, health, personalities, science and technology, consumer information, United States, the world, nations, and sports. The general index and quick reference guide are included in over twenty-five pages at the conclusion. Using both types of indexes, readers can easily look up data on aviation, disabled people, high schools, Mars, nutrition, quantum physics, Toyotas, yellow fever, or a plethora of memorable and banal events, happenings, or interests, to name a few.
